Supplemental Retirement

Employees of The University of Southern Mississippi are offered certain tax advantages in that part of the gross compensation may be excluded from current income taxes when used to purchase an annuity for additional retirement benefits under the provisions of Section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code. Invested moneys will be taxed at the time the annuity matures and payment is made to the individual. This could result in considerable tax savings to the individual.

The University of Southern Mississippi also offers the Roth 403(b) as an option to have post-tax earnings deducted for supplemental retirement savings. The earnings from these accounts are allowed to accumulate on a tax free basis as long as proper methods are followed for withdrawals. The contributions limits for Roth 403 (b) accounts are the same as the traditional (pre-tax) 403(b). An employee can choose to contribute to both a post-tax Roth 403 (b) account and a pre-tax 403(b) account. However, the combined amounts withheld cannot exceed the IRS calendar year contribution limit.

The United States congress created code Section 125 as part of the Revenue Act of 1978 to make benefits ore affordable for employees. The Medical Reimbursement Plan is a result of that law. The plan is designed to allow an employee to set aside pre-taxed dollars to cover out-of-pocket medical expenses, not paid by group health insurance benefits that occur during the plan year.
